Meet Hult professor, Chris Kinsville-Heyne and his class topic:

Whats the New Normal? Leading and Team Building towards 2020.

As Millennials take their first steps on the rungs of corporate management, how will their preferred working methods impact the way we manage them, and what can we expect from the way they interpret the roles of management, leadership and team building?

Join Professor Chris Kinsville-Heyne for Hult Masterclasses in St. Petersburg, Moscow and Zurich and explore the many changes and different approaches challenging companies and organisations from the shop floor to the boardroom.
