

Special event ‘The New Silk Road: A View from Russia’

April 18, 2018
Lecture hall II3 (2nd floor)

Head of the Section: Buklemishev O.V., PhD, Assoc. Prof., Vice Dean for International Relations, Head of Center for Economic Policy Research, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU

10.55-11.00, Welcoming address: Buklemishev O.V., PhD, Assoc. Prof., Vice Dean for International Relations, Head of Center for Economic Policy Research, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU

11.00-13.00, Session 1. New Economy of the Eurasian Space

Moderator: Buklemishev O.V., PhD, Assoc. Prof., Vice Dean for International Relations, Head of Center for Economic Policy Research, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU

Speakers:

1. Vardomskiy L.B., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Prof, Principal Researcher, Institute of Economics, Russian Academy of Sciences (RAS), ‘The Silk Road and the Interests of Countries of the Eurasian Economic Union’
2. Dai Liyan, PhD in Economics, Assoc. Prof., Institute of International Relations, Liaoning University, China, ‘Analysis on the Investment Cooperation Strategy of China and Russia Sovereign Wealth Funds’
3. Glinkina S.P., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Prof., Institute of Economics, Russian Academy of Sciences (RAS) / Moscow School of Economics (MSE), Lomonosov MSU, Yakovlev A.A., Junior Researcher, Institute of Economics, RAS / MSE, Lomonosov MSU, ‘The role of the Russian neighborhood zone in the Chinese initiative ‘One Belt One Road’
4. Eszterhai V., Senior Researcher, Pallas Athene Innovation and Geopolitical Foundation, ‘New Economy of the Eurasian Space – the Limits of Chinese Investment’
5. Liu Yiru, PhD student, Lomonosov MSU, Faculty of Economics, ‘The Silk Road Digitalization: main prospects and features’
6. Shafiev R.M., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Prof., International University in Moscow, ‘New Aspects of Russian Energy Diplomacy’
7. Yang Da, PhD in Economics, Ass. Prof., Institute of International Relations, Liaoning University, China, ‘How Psychic Distance Influences the Bilateral Trade of China and Countries along the Belt and Road?’

13.00-14.00, Break

14.00-16.00, Session 2. Contours of the Russian Transport System and the New Silk Road

Moderators: Buklemishev O.V., PhD, Assoc. Prof., Vice Dean for International Relations, Head of Center for Economic Policy Research, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU, Lapidus L.V., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Prof., Head of Center for Social and Economic Innovation, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU

Speakers:

1. Turaeva M.O., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Lead Researcher, Institute of Economics, Russian Academy of Sciences (RAS), ‘Transport and Logistics Aspects of the Interface between the Eurasian Economic Union and the ‘One Belt One Road’ Initiative: a partnership or competition for Chinese investment between the participating countries’

2. Dadabaeva Z.A., Advanced Doctor in Political Science, Lead Researcher, Institute of Economics, Russian Academy of Sciences (RAS), ‘The role of Information and Communication Technologies in providing transit corridors in the Eurasian Economic Union and neighboring countries’
3. Kattsyn D.V., PhD in Engineering Sciences, Deputy CEO JSC ‘High-Speed Rail Lines’, ‘High-Speed Railway Moscow-Kazan-Ekaterinburg: the first stage of the formation of the high-speed transcontinental corridor Beijing-Western Europe’
4. Sharipov F.F., PhD in Economics, Assoc. Prof., State University of Management, Dyakonova M.A., PhD in Political Science, Assoc. Prof., State University of Management, ‘The New Silk Road. From China to Russia through Afghanistan’
5. Saakyan M.D., PhD in Political Science, National Research Defense University, Armenia, ‘One Belt One Road Initiative from China’s National Security Perspectives’
6. Lapidus L.V., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Prof., Head of Center for Social and Economic Innovation, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU, ‘The smoothness level of a seamless transport system as a criterion for choosing a route in implementing the ‘One Belt, One Road’ Initiative’

16.20-18.00, Round Table (in English) ‘The New Silk Road: A View from Russia’

Moderator: Buklemishev O.V., PhD, Assoc. Prof., Vice Dean for International Relations, Head of Center for Economic Policy Research, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU

Speakers:

1. Avdokushin E.F., Advanced Doctor in Economics, Prof., Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov MSU, ‘Chinese Digital Silk Road – a challenge for Russia’
2. Yeremin V.L., First Deputy Director of the School of State Audit, Lomonosov MSU, ‘Humanitarian Cooperation within the New Silk Road’

All participants are invited to take part in the discussion.