

Foreign Exchange Transactions Management

Full name of the professor: PhD in Economics, assoc. prof. Starkov V.G.

Place of the course in the Master's programme: elective course, 4 trimester.

Brief content of the course: Introduction to Technical Analysis and Exchange Trading; Foundations of the Currency Charting. Chart figures; Currency Price Chart Analysis; Indicators in Technical Analysis; Applications of Japanese Charting Approach; Building and Application of Trading Strategies in Technical Analysis.

The purpose of this discipline is to master the student's conceptual apparatus and methods of analysis of organized markets, their active and informed use by the students in the learning process and further professional activities. The specificity of the discipline consists in considering modern financial markets as a system of interrelated types of trading in various assets, managing risks arising from it and using the analytical apparatus effectively.

Workload of the discipline is 6 ECTS, 216 hours.

Language of instruction: English.

Course midterm control is conducted in the form of final projects defense.